

Speaker Bio | Dr. Douglas Ribeiro

Dr. Ribeiro is a core faculty member of Lipscomb's Clinical Mental Health Counseling program and teaches multicultural issues in counseling. He also leads the Lipscomb Initiative for Behavioral Health Integration, a federally funded project aimed at preparing mental health professionals for team-based services in primary care settings. Ribeiro's scholarly interests include culturally responsive interventions and resilience among minoritized groups. He is particularly interested in the role of health-care providers in ameliorating health-care disparities among underserved and vulnerable populations. Ribeiro earned his PhD in counseling psychology at Georgia State University.